ABOUTME

I'm a third-year Computer Science student at Rajamangala University of Technology Phra Nakhon, Faculty of Science and Technology. I'm looking for opportunities where I can use my science and tech skills to help solve problems.

PROJECT

Worked with a team to design and develop an online bookstore website with a database to manage book and customer information. The platform allows users to browse and purchase books, and includes an admin backend where administrators can add, edit, and delete book data.
